SMELTER FOR EL PASO

REPORTED THAT PHILADELPHIA PEOPLE WILL BUILD ONE.

Parties Will Commence in a Short Time it is Said, by Those Interested in the Enterprise.

Parties from Pittsburgh are in El Paso for the purpose of arranging to start a brewery there.

In addition to the brewery which has already been chartered, Pittsburgh capitalists, assisted by El Paso people, have decided to erect one. The matter has already been thoroughly gone over and plans are almost ready for chartering the company.

Work will begin within a very short while, it is stated by those interested, and the institution will be pushed to completion with all possible rapidity. The company is represented by one of the leading law firms of El Paso, and one of the members of this firm is quoted as follows in the Herald:

"Yes, it is a fact that the brewery is to be built. Tests of water have been made and some property has been looked at with a view of selecting a location. We have not said anything about it as we did not want to interfere with Mr. Pence's brewery project, but our people mean business. The promoters are men who have the money and who are well known in this city, and they are backed by some of the leading business men of El Paso. The institution will be capitalized at two hundred thousand dollars and a hundred and fifty thousand of this will be subscribed by Pittsburgh people, while fifty thousand will be subscribed by local men. This is a straight business proposition, an assured fact, and that is all there is to it. If the people did not mean business our firm would not take any hand in the matter, but they mean to erect a brewery here. We have handled business for them heretofore, and know that they mean what they say. All the money is already in sight."

Even when a woman is up against a lot of worry, she doesn't forget to see that her hat is on straight.

DEATH OF A PIONEER

HON. JOHN Y. T. SMITH, OF PHOENIX, DIES IN LOS ANGELES.

He Went to Salt River Valley Before Phoenix Was Started—Prominent in Politics for Years.

George Buxton received a telegram yesterday from his wife, who left here Tuesday morning for Los Angeles, announcing the death of her father, Hon. John Y. T. Smith, of Phoenix, in Los Angeles.

Mr. Smith went from Phoenix with his family two weeks ago, to spend the summer on the coast, as has been his custom for years, and Mrs. Buxton left this city to join the family. Mr. Buxton expecting to go there later for a vacation. Mr. Buxton stated last night that a recent letter conveyed the information that Mr. Smith was in his usual good health. However, the deceased had been subject to heart trouble, and Mr. Buxton attributes the sudden death to this trouble. Mr. Buxton leaves this afternoon for Phoenix to attend the funeral, which will occur in that city on Sunday. Mr. Smith was a partner in the Buxton-Smith company of this city. This business will be closed until next Monday.

Hon. John Y. T. Smith was 73 years old, having been born in the city of Buffalo September 16, 1831. He went to California with a party of young men in 1853, driving a herd of 500 head of cattle across the plains, being six months on the trip. He engaged in prospecting and gold mining. In 1858 he was in the Fraser river gold excitement in British Columbia, but soon returned to California.

At the opening of the civil war Mr. Smith enlisted in company H, Fourth California Infantry, and with his regiment came to Yuma, Arizona, where he remained a year. During his military service he was promoted from the ranks to be first lieutenant.

In the fall of 1865 he started for Arizona with the Fourteenth United States regiment, as master of transportation, and continued for two years at Fort McDowell. Afterwards he received the appointment as post trader at Fort McDowell.

About 1872 he started a mercantile business at Phoenix. Besides merchandising, Mr. Smith had mining and other interests. In 1876 he built the second flour mill in the Salt river valley, and this he operated until 1887, when he built one of the best mills ever erected in the territory. This mill he operated until 1899, when he sold it. He was closely identified with the early work of canal building in the Salt river valley. At the time the first ditch was started, in 1866, not a house stood on the present site of Phoenix, and it was two years later before the town came into existence. With its subsequent growth and progress he has been closely associated.

The republican party always had a staunch friend in Mr. Smith. For years he has been chairman of the county central committee of Maricopa county. In 1868 he was elected to the territorial legislature; again in 1886 he was elected to that body, this time from Maricopa county, and in 1888 was re-elected, serving in the fourteenth and fifteenth assemblies, and during the latter he was, with others, successful in securing the removal of the capital from Prescott to Phoenix. In 1889 he was appointed territorial treasurer, which office he filled for two years. During the two following years he was a member of the territorial board of equalization.

Prominent in Masonry, Mr. Smith was a past deputy grand master of the grand lodge of Arizona. He was past commander of J. W. Owens post No. 5, G. A. R., and was connected with the California commandery of the Loyal Legion; also was a member of the Society of California Volunteers.

Few men in Arizona were better known throughout the territory than Hon. John Y. T. Smith, and none more universally respected.

It is not known yet whether any of the Bisbee sports will go to San Francisco or not, to witness the fight between Jeffries and Corbett. The members of the Bisbee Athletic club are somewhat surfeited with prize fighting just now, as well as being rather short on wind from dodging the deputy United States marshals. The absence of the chief of the athletic club—Jack Bolan—who now languishes and sweaters in the pen at Yuma, has also had a rather depressing effect on all the club members. However, there may be those who have not been entirely weaned of their desire to see a fight, and such may journey to San Francisco.

MYSTERY OF JOE RULE

FOUND LYING NEAR HOSPITAL WITH FOOT CRUSHED.

Mind Unbalanced and Imagines That He Was Attacked by Pinkertons. Will Be Examined for Sanity.

An occurrence savoring of sensation came up yesterday when an unknown man was found at the door of the Calumet & Arizona hospital, with a crushed foot. The man seemed to be in a dazed condition, and could tell nothing of the cause of his condition. Those who brought him to the hospital left him without a word of explanation, and their identity is yet unknown. Dr. Edmundson found it necessary to amputate one of the man's toes on the right foot.

Last night he was brought into town and examined as to his sanity. At the examination it developed that the man's name was Joseph Rule, and several who were present identified him as a miner who had worked in this camp, and who had been drinking heavily for several days. He seems to be laboring under the delusion that he was attacked on two different occasions while applying for work at one of the camps outside of the city. He states that on the first attack, a pick was driven through his foot, but this is plainly due to his imagination, as no wound such as would have been made by a pick appears. Dr. Edmundson says that he discovered no such wound, but that the toes of his right foot were badly crushed.

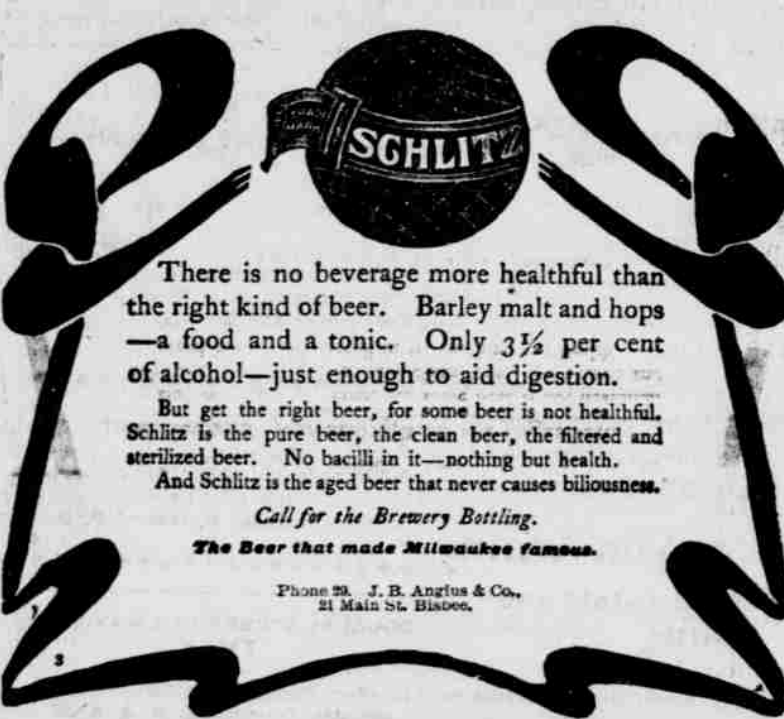

Rule was discovered lying outside the hospital between 8 and 9 o'clock yesterday morning, by the nurse, who ordered him taken in. Dr. Edmundson was then sent for, and amputated a toe, which could not be saved.

Rule is well known to many of the miners of Bisbee, and has worked all over the west. One who knows him stated last night that he thought Rule had deposited some money behind the bar at the Palace saloon, as he saw him get money from the bartender there a few days ago, who then told him he could have no more while he was drinking.

Rule at one time claimed that he met with trouble at a camp while on his way out of Bisbee, and at another time stated that he had not been in Bisbee for a year, but was just returning from Cananea when attacked by several men who held him up at the point of guns and made him stand in front of an oncoming train and jump on the pilot. He imagines that the men were Pinkertons, who perpetrated the outrage on him because he refused to tell them anything of the movements of union organizers.

That the man is suffering from temporary aberration as a result of alcoholic poisoning is plain. Justice McDonald, after conversing with Rule, decided to wait this morning and continue his examination. If at that time he still continues irrational, he will be committed to Tombstone to be further examined as to his sanity.

The belief is now that Rule met with the accident by falling from a moving train. At a late hour last night he had recovered slightly, and was able to recount his movements from the time he left Bisbee until the accident happened.

There is no beverage more healthful than the right kind of beer. Barley malt and hops—a food and a tonic. Only 3 1/2 per cent of alcohol—just enough to aid digestion.

But get the right beer, for some beer is not healthful. Schlitz is the pure beer, the clean beer, the filtered and sterilized beer. No bacilli in it—nothing but health.

And Schlitz is the aged beer that never causes biliousness.
